NEWS FROM THE PROMOTIONS COMMITTEE

Don Eeningenburg, one of the new board members, would like to solicit some help or at least some willingness to participate in an idea for getting some community exposure and hopefully raising a few bucks for the school as well.

Seeing it is planting time now, how about planting and caring for a bit more garden than you would normally do. (Maybe a group of students would like a summer project). Then as the crop comes in, we could market the produce at the little Farmer's Market in Grant. Donations from commercial growers would of course be welcome too. At the booth, we could note that the source is Grant Christian.

Don has run the idea past the manager at the Farmer's Market and got the go ahead there.

The market runs Tuesday afternoons and Saturday mornings. Don and his wife would volunteer for Tuesdays (with some vacation interruptions) but would like to seek others to cover Saturday mornings. Perhaps some kids from various classes could staff given Saturdays.

For planning purposes, Don would like you to call him or email him at the contacts below to let him know – “count us in, we will have extra veggies of whatever type probably starting”. . . .and/or “count on us staffing some Saturday mornings”.

Thanks in Advance

Please continue to promote our school. We would love to have a few more families join our school next year!

Summer Tutoring

Thinking ahead to summer vacation, I am planning on being available to do some tutoring for students. I am thinking of being here at school 2 days a week, through most of the summer. However, there will be some days at the end of June and July that I will be on vacation and will not be available. I can work with students on math and reading to either help them keep skills they have learned or remediation if necessary. If you are interested, please contact me and we can work out a schedule, it can be for one day a week or it can be for two days. I will be charging $20.00 per hour. The session will be one-on-one and is available for all grade levels.
